DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Blatter (US 6,265,002). Blatter discloses an apparatus for making and filling a bag with a strippable seal comprising a pair of thermal sealing rollers 310 with annular projections 512 for imparting a wavelike or zig-zag shape upon the bag material passing between a nip for conveyance; see figures 5A–6D.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 2 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Note: the limitation "as viewed in the plane of the film" is a descriptive of a cross section of the film, not across the width of the film as the film only defines a single plane. Therefore, "in" that plane would put a viewer viewing the thickness of the film. Due to the interview of 8/25/03 the examiner believes the applicant's intention is to define a roller with annular projections for imparting a zigzag strippable seal along the width of a package.

Furthermore, note that limitations directed towards the article worked upon do not limit an apparatus claim; see MPEP 2115. Likewise, limitations towards the intended use of the apparatus are not discernable over the prior art if there are no structural differences; see MPEP 2114.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
